The fabricator

The fabricator

Creates false information to dishonestly gain a benefit for themselves or others.

For example

A candidate for a public sector role provides falsified reference letters as part of their job application.